William Ryden, Series Editor

This is a new series of orchestrations, designed to offer school and community orchestras a broad and comprehensive selection of music written between the eighteenth and twentieth centuries. The majority of titles are drawn from the standard orchestral repertoire, but the series also includes settings of the world's favourite melodies from other sources.

While the majority of titles are complete and unabridged, a few have been tastefully edited to conform to series limitations. In all instances, the arrangements remain faithful harmonically and stylistically to their original sources.

These titles are sold in Sets which consist of a copy of the score, the complete windset and strings 8.8.5.5.5
